

SATURDAY AFTERNOON, OCTOBER 18.

The Address of Kossuth.

We refer to our first and fourth pages for this eloquent and noble Address. It will be read with pride and satisfaction by every lover of human freedom!

MEDICAL IMPOSTURE.—Upon reflection, we think the publication of the communication on this subject would rather add to the notoriety of the persons alluded to than thwart their designs.

THE NEXT SPEAKER.—The Charlestown (Va.) Free Press remarks, that speculation is afloat as to the individual likely to fill the chair of the House of Representatives—"a seat graced by a Clay, a Cheves, a Harbort, and a Winthrop"—and has no hope of a Whig being chosen, because the Democrats have a decided majority, and therefore they must submit to a choice from the best materials furnished by their opponents. Among the probable candidates, it names Messrs. Boyd, of Kentucky, Disney, of Ohio, Bissell, of Illinois, and Bayly, of Virginia. "If," the Free Press remarks, "our Democratic friends will join us in electing a good Union Whig from this district, we think there will be no difficulty in putting Gen. Bayly in the chair!" This bid looks like the name of Bayly has power in the vicinity of the Blue Ridge, as well as in the Lowlands!

A COLD LITTLE BOY!—"In the chilly hour of the morning" we were out to-day as usual, and met on our walk a little boy with bare feet, an old straw hat, and worn-out cotton clothes. To our question, "Are you cold, my little fellow?" he chattered the reply of—"Yes, a teetle!" but hurried away, evidently ashamed of his poverty and mortified at being pitted! This was not censurable in him: it is no doubt the spirit that will redeem and save him from degradation; it gives promise that that poor boy may yet attain a condition of usefulness, respectability and honor in the world. But why, in this city, is he ragged and cold, and in his bare feet upon the frosty streets? If he had no parents, it would not be so, for then he would be taken care of. He must have parents; but why do they not take care of him? There can be no reason but their unworthiness. Poverty affords no plea. They may themselves suffer through the pride that would prevent their asking alms; but false, base, and mean must be that pride that would prevent a parent's asking alms for the sake of a suffering child! The "Ragged Man," who walks like the image of misery through our streets, appears to rise in his very destitution above want, and to enjoy a happy consciousness of pride that holds him above our pity and away from our sympathy; but were his eyes to rest upon his own child in a like condition, how his pride would be humbled, and how abjectly he would prostrate himself to supplicate for charity in its behalf! Should he not do so, the scorn and aversion of every good man would rest upon him. And so should it ever be. An independent spirit is beautiful and commendable; but it cannot survive the neglect of those whom God has called upon us to cherish and protect. Though surrounded by wealth, he is far from independence whose child has made a fruitless call upon him for bread, for raiment, and for proper education. Such call need never be made in vain in this city. No matter how poor, how friendless a parent may be, if he be true to his charge, there need be no destitution among the children of his home. Here indeed may be truly repeated the language of the psalmist: "I have been young, and now am old; yet have I not seen the righteous forsaken, nor his seed begging bread!" But he who possesses not this exemption should beware, and not transmit to his children the vices that have degraded him, nor the misery it has entailed.

THE FIRE ANNIHILATOR.—The newspapers generally regard this affair as a humbug, yet there are very few of them that have not been humbugged into puffing it in advance—that is, by copying, with approval and admiration, articles that had previously been published in the English papers. Many persons accuse editors of wilfully uniting in conspiracies to deceive the public in these matters; but it is not true. It is the good nature, and not the cupidity, of editors, that facilitates the deception. They override their legitimate business, and write up private interests without profit to themselves. The public would profit greatly by a determination on the part of the press to demand a full recompense for its labors.

STARTLING DISCLOSURE.—We translate from a recent number of L'Echo d'Italia the following narrative: A short time since, in a public debate before the tribunal in Florence, a singular fact was disclosed. A youth of honest parents had met with serious losses at billiards. Thus exposed to temptation, he stole a pearl necklace belonging to his aunt, who knowing not the robber, and meaning not to harm her own nephew, gave information to the authorities; but nothing could be discovered. The youth, after regaining his losses at billiards, redeemed the necklace, which he had pawned, and confessed his crime to a priest, promising the restitution, and accepted the proposal of the priest, who offered to return for him the necklace to its owner. At the grate of the confessional, they fixed the hour of the next day when the youth should leave the necklace to the priest. At the appointed hour he went and gave the pearls to the confessor; but straightway from the confessional he passed into the hands of the gendarme, who, invited by the priest, had awaited him there. He has now to pass one year in prison.

CENTRE MARKET.—The supply this morning was abundant and of good quality. We quote beef, best cuts, at 8 cents per pound; veal, 8c; lamb, 8c; pork, 10c; salt cod, 9c; hams, 12c; lard, 10c; sausages, 10c; chickens, $2.40 per dozen; ducks, $3 per dozen; butter, 16c; 31c per pound; eggs, 25c per dozen; potatoes, 25c per peck; tomatoes, 25c per peck; corn, 12c per bushel; egg plants, 2c apiece; cabbages, 8c per head; cauliflower, 8c per head; apples, 18c per bushel; quinces, 50c per peck.

A man in Menon, Mass., who is upwards of 75 years of age, has a third set of front teeth growing.

New Books.

The Ozonians, a Sequel to the Rouse, is fresh from the press of Peterson, Philadelphia, and for sale in this city by Shillington, at twenty-five cents. It is called a domestic romance, and said to be written by Bulwer. We do not admire its plot or composition, and decidedly condemn its morality. From the tone and influence of Mr. Bulwer's latest works, we incline to the opinion that he repents the production of such works as this. We regret that Mr. Peterson regards them as adapted to the present wants of his countrymen.

The Mysteries of Free Masonry.—This is said to be a reprint of Morgan's book, with additions by George R. Crafts. If, as it professes, it contains the whole of Free-Masonry, it certainly is very cheap at a quarter!

One peculiarity about Free-Masons is, that they—or at least the prudent and understanding—neither affirm nor deny anything that is said about them, and enter into no disputation on the subject. This, in our opinion, is the secret of their vitality; and hence the difficulty of the world's being assured of the truth of any pretended revelations on the subject. Their example and influence are their only arguments. The Christian Society of Friends find strength in the same policy.

VIRGINIA ELECTION.—The election for members of Congress and members of the General Assembly of Virginia will take place on Thursday next. A poll will also be opened on that day to take the vote of the people upon the amended Constitution, which must, under the law, be kept open three days; but not so the poll for members of Congress and the Legislature, which will be closed on the first day.

THE CLARKE COUNTY (VA.) HOMICIDE.—We learn from the Charlestown Free Press that the trial of Colonel James Castleman, charged with unmerciful treatment of a slave, thereby causing his death, came off at Berryville, on Wednesday, and resulted in a verdict of acquittal, the jury not leaving their seats. In the case of his son, C. D. Castleman, a nolle prosequi was entered.

THE TEN HOUR SYSTEM.—Seth Wilmarth, esq., proprietor of the Union Works, South Boston, in acceding to the recent ten-hour strike of his employees, has frankly expressed to them his opinion that the movement was an impolitic one, and which would not probably ultimately result in bettering their condition. Mr. W. casts no direct blame on his men for their course, but sincerely regards the movement as one by no means of a prudent nature.

FUDGE! Mr. Bee! all fudge; and we sincerely hope the men will have the frankness to stand up to their interests. Ten hours is a long day to men who labor; and when they persevere in the frankness of demanding it, it is always better for them, and it has always proved so. Labor is the only wealth in the markets of the world. All other things possess the value labor gives them, and nothing more. Laborers, therefore, should strive to become the monopolists, and this will effect no good, since the worst result will be the greatest blessing, viz: the compelling every man to do his own share of work. That is the condition of society in which every man will be happy, and the will of God fulfilled!

NEW ORLEANS OPERA TROUPE.—Who can resist going to Sanford's Benefit this evening? He offers the audience fifty dollars worth of jewelry, consisting of twelve articles. A person paying twenty-five cents has the benefit of the Concert and a chance of one of the articles. Mr. Lynch will, on this occasion, sing a new song, "lanthe," composed expressly for him by Professor J. T. McKenna, of this city.

SUDDEN DEATH.—The Terre Haute (Ind.) Express says, that lately the infant son of a Mrs. Seeburger, of that place, was taken ill. His mother, seeing him in such agony, was totally unnerved; and the neighbors coming in, and seeing her very great excitement and distress, insisted that she should lie down on the bed, telling her that the little boy would be better. Mrs. S. accordingly lay down, and those present left the room a few moments to attend to the boy, but when they came to her bedside afterwards they found her a corpse! All the means resorted to failed to restore her to life, and she evidently died from fright.

GEORGETOWN AND ITS AFFAIRS.
GEORGETOWN, October 18—12 m.
Edward S. Wright, auctioneer, sold yesterday, in Oak Hill Cemetery, thirty-seven lots, at premiums ranging from $5 to $45 over the fixed price—40 cents per square foot.
A slight error unintentionally occurred in my communication of Thursday. It was Dr. G. Tyler who dressed the wound of young Brook. In our market this morning there was a superabundance of the good things of this life, and all sold at moderate prices. Best cuts beef, 8c per pound; mutton, 6c; hams, 12c; cheese, 10c; pork, 10c; honey, 16c; 20c; do.; corn, 10c; butter, 20c; 31c; do.; lamb, 8c; 37c; 62c; per quarter; eggs, 25c per doz.; chickens, $2.50 per doz.; potatoes, sweet and Irish, 20c per peck; apples, 20c; 25c per peck; tomatoes, 25c per peck; turnips, 20c per peck; cabbages, 3 to 10c per head; other fruits and vegetables at about the same rates.

Two of the largest loads of coal that ever came down the canal arrived here this week; the Otto Baker, bringing 118 tons, and the Geo. Waters 120 tons.

Flour and Grain Market.—Flour firm and steady at $3.87, with sales of 1,000 to 1,200 bbls., good brands. Wheat coming in freely, by wagons, and steady at 76c/78c. Corn—prime white, 60c; yellow, 58c.

Arrivals.—Schooner Edward Hardy, Walker, Elizabeth City, N. C., to George Waters; brig Whittier, Noan, Eastport, to George Waters. Sail d- Packet schooner John M. Clayton, Woolton, Philadelphia.

Corn Trade.—Arrived, Belle, 88 miles, flour, corn, 12c; Solomon Clark, Cumberland, coal; George Waters, Cumberland, 120 tons coal; Gov. Sprigg, 100 miles, flour, &c.; Andrew Jackson, 68 miles, wheat, &c.; Delaware, Cumberland, coal; Archibald Cary, do.

Departed.—Bon. Franklin, Old Dominion, J. A. Magruder, Jas. Terrill, Chesapeake, Otto Baker, Louisa, William T. Hamilton, Frances, Southampton, Wm. Jackson, and Edward Payne. The packet Belle will reach here this afternoon.

POSTSCRIPT!

Arrival of the Illinois from San Francisco.
[Despatched to the American Telegraph.]

New York, October 18—2 p. m.
The Illinois arrived with San Francisco dates to the 15th of September. She brings 400 passengers, and two millions of gold. The election still doubtful; but chances favor the Democrats. The Illinois made her run home in seven days and sixteen hours, being the quickest trip on record!

Senator Gwin came as a passenger in the Brother Jonathan.

The Panama railroad was progressing favorably, and the engineers confidently expected to be able to run a locomotive by October 12th.

Among the passengers by the Illinois, there are seven persons who have made one hundred thousand dollars at the mines.

The markets have improved. Flour has advanced. Provisions are in better demand. San Francisco bonds yield the holders twenty-five per cent. per annum.

AUBURN, N. Y., October 17.—The examination of the cases of Ira H. Cobb, J. Moses, editor of the Standard, S. Porter, A. Dutcher, Amos Davis, all whites, and a colored man named Brown, charged with a participation in the riot on the 1st of October, in aiding the arrest of a fugitive slave named Jerry, at Syracuse, is progressing here, but nothing has yet transpired to indicate what the result will be. They were brought down on Wednesday from Syracuse to be examined here.

There is great excitement both here and at Syracuse, and the court-house is crowded to overflow. District Attorney Lawrence, under directions from Washington, insists on their full commitment on the charge of high treason. There are still a number of warrants out for the arrest of other accused parties.

ALBANY, N. Y., October 17.—The Governor has rescripted Ottrott, sentenced to be hung for arson, until the 5th of December next, when he will be executed.

BUFFALO, October 16.—The brig J. R. Giddings, with a full cargo, bound from here to Chicago, has not been heard from, and is supposed to have gone down with all on board.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 16.—There are 35 inches water in the channel—the river stationary. The weather cool and pleasant.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 17.—Later advices from Yucatan state that the Indian war was drawing to a close. Efforts are being made to secure a treaty of peace.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17—10 p. m.—The election of the Whig and Native Senator in Philadelphia county, and of a Whig Senator in Northumberland district, gives the Whigs a majority of one in the Senate.

In fifty-three counties, Bigler has 5,500 majority.

CHARLESTON, Oct. 16.—The remaining districts to hear from will give an immense co-operation majority. Rhett is close pushed, but will probably be elected.

[Communicated.]
To the Editors of the American Telegraph.
GENTLEMEN: Firm as I imagined I stood in the position which you assumed a few days ago in the Telegraph, in regard to the influence of dramatic associations upon the youth of a community, I confess that I felt as if my pedals were knocked from under me, on mingling in the gay and seemingly happy throng assembled to witness the performances of the Young Men's Dramatic Association of Georgetown—fathers and mothers, sisters and brothers, looking like anything but converts to the moral of our platform. I fear that frequent indulgence in visits there would cause me to exclaim with the Jew: "Thou almost persuadest me," &c. Though not willing to yield the point, I must reluctantly acknowledge that the crowded and gratified audience on that evening bespeaks the unpopularity of our position; but there is consolation in the maxim—Magna est veritas et prevalebit.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 18, 1851. X.

THE SYNOD OF VIRGINIA (New School Presbyterian) met, on Thursday evening, in the Second Presbyterian church, (the Rev. J. N. Danforth,) Alexandria, Virginia, and was opened with a sermon by the Moderator, the Rev. E. H. Cumpston, from the Second Corinthians, second chapter, fourth, fifth, and sixteenth verses:—"Now, thanks be unto God, which always causeth us to triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest the savour of his knowledge by us in every place; for we are unto God a sweet savour of Christ in them that are saved, and in them that perish; to the one we are the savour of death unto death; and to the other the savour of life unto life. And who is sufficient for these things?"

The Synod was opened with prayer.
The Rev. Wm. Torrey, of the Presbytery of Winchester, Va., was unanimously chosen Moderator, and the Rev. Messrs. Randolph A. Smith and Robert Gray temporary clerks.

On Friday morning, in accordance with the resolution passed on the night previous, half an hour was spent in devotional exercises before proceeding to business.

Among other transactions, was the reading of statistical reports from the churches, from which it appeared that within the bounds of the Presbytery of the District of Columbia there are fourteen ministers—under their care eleven churches—and three licentiate, namely: Rev. Messrs. R. R. Gurley, J. E. Nourse, and A. G. Caruthers.

On motion of the Rev. John C. Smith, it was resolved that to-day (at ten o'clock) be set apart for a free conversation on the state of religion.

Lynchburg was selected as the next place of meeting of the Synod.

The Rev. Leonidas Rosser, of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, was invited to sit as a corresponding member.

The proceedings were conducted, as usual, in a highly courteous and Christian spirit.

The Synod will adjourn to-day.—Republic.

A Duke, Count or Lord, who has been passing his time very agreeably at Newport, recently vanished from that place, leaving a large number of bills unpaid.

Forrest brought down an impulsive round on Wednesday evening, when he faltered out in Lear—"I am a man more sinned against than sinning!"

[From the Washington Gazette of April 22, 1797.]

"Last week sailed from Barry's wharf, Eastern Branch, the ship Maryland, burthen nearly 400 tons, laden with bread and flour, bound to some [foreign] port, for the benefit of the owners."

The above ship is noticed as the first which had sailed from the city of Washington last, and bound to a foreign port; and it may be added that it was almost the last; but the time is not distant, we hope, when it will be a frequent if not every-day occurrence.—Intelligencer.

THE SWAN OF AFRICA.—A new impulse is about to be given to the musical furor. A new candidate for fame in the world of song has arisen in the West. It is a bird of African extraction, though not exactly a black bird; and she has spread her wings under the auspices of the "Black Swan." Her real, earthly name is Eliza Greenfield. She is a colored girl, belonging to Buffalo, N. Y., where she is making preparations for her debut. She has surprised and delighted those who have heard her, and is said to possess a voice of great purity and flexibility, and extraordinary compass—singing notes in alto with brilliancy and sweetness, and descending to the bass notes with a power and volume which is perfectly astonishing. The Buffalo Commercial of Saturday last says:

"The 'Black Swan' gave a rehearsal yesterday afternoon at Townsend Hall. Those who heard her, came, we believe, to the unanimous conclusion that she was next to Jenny Lind, at least in her vocal powers. She has a great compass of voice—rising and falling from the sweetest to the lowest tones, with the greatest ease and rapidity, with 'intimations' of softness, and anon thrilling and startling. We understand that she will give a concert in this city at an early day—probably next week."

Kossuth commenced his career as a reporter for the Hungarian Diet, and afterwards became the editor of an influential journal.
